ABB C1™ ImmunoEssentials

A unique combination of mineral yeast & β-glucan complex that enhances trained immunity through the power of synergy.

- ABB C1™ modifies the cells of the innate immune system by stimulating their memory so that they will react better and more quickly to any threats.
- It is clinically proven to reduce the gap between innate and adaptive immunity, training the immune system to function at the highest level.
- Combines highly functional postbiotic yeast, both zinc and selenium yeasts & beta glucans.
- Protects the integrity of the intestine that may be badly disrupted by pathogens or allergens.
- Efficiently prevents multiple immunity-weakening impacts of a pathogen infection.
- Simultaneously reinforces innate and adaptive immune defenses.
- ABB C1™ is available in stick packs, capsules, tablets, snack bars, gummies & bulk powder.
